Master Compatible Relationships to Build a Foundation for Sustainable Business Growth

With Elizabeth E. George, MA, CSP
Creator of The Compatibility Code
A Keynote Presentation for Business Audiences

Is there any aspect of your business that does not involve human relationships?

Whether you are in charge of hiring a team, managing a department, or working with colleagues...from selecting business partners to evaluating potential projects, compatible business relationships are crucial. But too many of us choose the wrong people for the wrong reasons and fail to harness the power of relationships to impact productivity and performance.

The quality of your relationships will either, boost or reduce your bottom line.

This keynote will give you insights into ensuring that your values, vision, and work ethic are in sync with your team, personnel, and your organization. Explore three steps to achieve a foundation of sustainable growth. Results will assist you in taking the emotion out of decision making, reduce conflict and misunderstanding, and recognize fatal flaws that damage business relationships. This leads to an energizing and uplifting effect on your entire organization.

Your audience will learn to:

- Master a 3-step process for bomb-proofing business relationships
- Strengthen corporate culture and sharpen communication and leadership skills
- Take the emotion out of decision making to reduce conflict & misunderstanding
- Recognize the fatal flaws that damage business relationships
- Attract individuals who fit in terms of personality and business goals
